GRAND KNIGHT'S COMMENTS – Paul Wagner

pwagner8@neo.rr.com

There is a country western song out there and in it is a line that has caught my attention. The line is about a bunch of good old boys getting together and "Drinking beer and talking about God." I personally know all there is to know about "Drinking Beer." In the 70's I set up a keg system in my refrigerator with 16-ounce mugs in the freezer. If I would never taste beer again, I wouldn't be out anything though. I personally know quite a bit about "Talking to God." Not everything, and that is why I'm committed to practice sessions. Now, the words of an age-old song come to me and I know you know the words. "In heaven there is no beer." OK, what does that leave? "Talking to God." (Another thing one might keep in mind is that God is much more of a wine drinker.) I know in our council we have members who get together one night each month to enjoy each other's company, and yes, there is beer available. Now, our council is having a "Talking about God," breakfast starting this Saturday, April 13th, 8:30 am at the 9ers in Wadsworth. No beer during the breakfast, however, beer will be available after if you want. So, just remember that in heaven there is no beer, so that leaves us one-on-one to talk to God. I know I could use more practice talking to God, and I've got to believe a little group therapy won't hurt. Saturday April 13th 8:30 am 9ers.

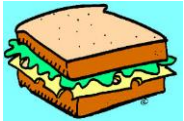

Vivat Jesus!

Paul Wagner, GK

Jesus, I Trust in You

DEEPENING OUR FAITH

Deacon Jim – This Month

Phil Scozzaro

"Service. This gesture is the condition to enter the kingdom of heaven. Yes, to serve... everyone. But the Lord, in the words he exchanged with Peter (cf. Jn 13:6-9), makes him realize that to enter the kingdom of heaven we must let the Lord serve us, that the servant of God be our servant. And this is hard to understand. If I do not let the Lord be my servant, do not let the Lord wash me, help me grow, forgive me, then I will not enter the kingdom of heaven."
